

SALES GALLERY AT CONTEMPORARY CRAFTS MUSEUM & GALLERY

CALL FOR ARTISTS

Help us
MAKE history.

For nearly 70 years, Contemporary Crafts Museum & Gallery has had a significant impact on the craft movement from its quiet location in the historic Lair Hill neighborhood. The organization is currently preparing to relocate in July 2007. Its new location – poised between Portland's Pearl District and Oldtown/Chinatown on the North Park Blocks – promises to be a vital and accessible hub for art lovers and collectors interested in exploring craft.

As part of this big change, Contemporary Crafts' Sales Gallery will position itself as the primary destination in the Pacific Northwest to purchase the very best examples of contemporary craft. We invite artists to submit work and help us make history.

Contemporary Crafts Museum & Gallery invites professional artists working in craft media (ceramic, fiber, wood, glass or metal) or using traditional craft techniques to submit documentation of their work to be considered for inclusion in the Sales Gallery at its new location. Professional artists living and working in North America are eligible to apply. All works must be original, handmade and available for purchase. Contemporary Crafts reserves the right to feature artists who do not apply.
